

ENRICO SERAFINO

FONDATA NEL 1878

Enrico Serafino was founded in 1878 in Canale d'Alba, one of the main towns in the Roero region of Piemonte, Italy, which has a rich history dating back to the Middle Ages as a farming center for the area. Today the winery still stands in its original location, making it the oldest winery in the region. Established by businessman and landowner Enrico Serafino, the winery quickly became well-known and respected throughout Piemonte and Italy and was one of the first to sell the region's classic wines throughout Italy and abroad. During this time, Enrico Serafino was also active in the production of Metodo Classico sparkling wines, which would later directly contribute to the formation and recognition of the Alta Langa DOCG.

93 2010 Brut Zero
Alta Langa DOCG
Metodo Classico

90 2011 Brut
Alta Langa DOCG
Metodo Classico

89 2013 Brut Rosé
Alta Langa DOCG
Metodo Classico

85% Pinot Nero and 15% Chardonnay, this vibrant sparkler delivers creamy apple, ripe pear, pastry and tangerine zest while a hazelnut note accents the finish. Fresh acidity brightens the palate alongside small continuous bubbles that lend elegance. It's loaded with finesse and flavor.

80% Pinot Nero and 20% Chardonnay, this vibrant sparkler offers delicate, appealing aromas of apple, mature pear, toast and bread crust that carry over to the expressive palate along with a note of citrus zest. An elegant continuous perlage accompanies the creamy flavors while a note of toasted hazelnut wraps up the finish.

Bright and refreshing, this sparkler opens with aromas of small red berry and a whiff of cake spice. Made entirely with Pinot Nero, the vibrant palate offers strawberry, raspberry and a cinnamon note alongside crisp acidity.