WINE FLIGHT

Exploring Amarone The fertile hills of the Valpolicella region just outside the historic city of Verona are the homeland of Amarone, one of Italy's greatest red wines.

By Ray Isle

Late autumn puts gorgeous color into the vineyards of Italy's Valpolicella region.

TENUTA SANT'ANTONIO

Extraordinary views over hillside vineyards can be had from this winery founded in 1995 by four brothers near the small town of San Briccio. Its single-vineyard 2013 Campo dei Gigli Amarone with its aromas of orange peel and roasted plums, has become a benchmark for the region.
