Forbes

This rosato is crafted from Primitivo grapes grown in the hot, sun-drenched vineyards of Salento. "Torrerosé" references the coastal watchtowers of Puglia and the wine's vibrant pink hue. It provides a fruit-forward, fuller-bodied style of rosato with a distinctive tannic backbone. The wine features black cherry, watermelon, dried herbs, and hibiscus. It is smooth and rounded on the palate, with medium acidity that highlights ripe berries, red currants, and pink peppercorn. The finish is long and smooth, with lingering fruity and spicy notes.
