

Italy's Sparkling Advantage: Prosecco and Franciacorta

"If you haven't yet had your eye-opening Prosecco moment, then I strongly urge you to look to many of the top wines in this report."

With nearly 100 bottles of Prosecco tasted, a mix that spanned from the entry level, to the more defined locations within the Conegliano Valdobbiadene of Rive and Cartizze, the average bottle price came out to just $23. This number alone is amazing, yet what's even more interesting is that it includes many wines that overperformed in every possible way. " – Eric Guido Dec 2020

ADAMI Bosco di Gica Brut Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore DOCG N/V

The NV Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore Bosco di Gica punches well above its price point, boasting an intensely smoky and mineral expression on the nose that pulls you close to the glass. Beneath, I'm finding notes of pear and sweet herbal tones. It's soothing and creamy yet balanced by brisk acids, as ripe orchard fruits satiate the senses, leaving a salty twang that resonates through the finale. Wow. This is a pleasure to taste. This was bottled in September of 2020.

ADAMI Dei Casel Extra Dry Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore DOCG N/V

The NV Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore Dei Casel lifts up with poise and precision, displaying dusty dried flowers, young pear and hints of white smoke. It impresses with a lovely inner sweetness, balanced by zesty acids and hints of spice. Seamless is the word that comes to mind, as this travels across the palate with creamy textures; yet it then resolves into a classically dry expression through the finale. You'll be hard-pressed to stop after just one glass. This was bottled in September of 2020.

ADAMI Garbèl Brut Prosecco Treviso DOC N/V

The NV Prosecco Garbèl represents amazing value in its category. Sweet white flowers, young peach and hints of vanilla bean make up its seductive bouquet. It's wonderfully balanced, with a soothing bead of bubbles which massage the palate, giving way to ripe orchard fruits. A hint of salty minerality frames the expression perfectly, as it tapers off, leaving a complete refreshed sensation. This was bottled in September of 2020.
