

Wine & Spirits
MAGAZINE

Year's Best - Sicilian Wines Report

Best 90 points Buy

2017 Tascante Buonora

Buonora is an exuberant Etna Bianco, bursting with flavors of lemon and lime driven by mouthwatering acidity. It comes across initially as an easy-drinking white, but a subtle smoky salinity emerges with exposure to air. It's a fresh, mineral-laden alternative for fans of Chablis and Sancerre. Tascante is the Etna project of Tasca d'Almerita and was launched by seventh-generation owner Alberto Tasca with the 2008 vintage.

—Stephanie Johnson

FAMILY OWNED, ESTATE BOTTLED WINES

Wine & Spirits
MAGAZINE

Year's Best - Sicilian Wines Report

Best 90 points Buy

2017 Tascante Buonora

Buonora is an exuberant Etna Bianco, bursting with flavors of lemon and lime driven by mouthwatering acidity. It comes across initially as an easy-drinking white, but a subtle smoky salinity emerges with exposure to air. It's a fresh, mineral-laden alternative for fans of Chablis and Sancerre. Tascante is the Etna project of Tasca d'Almerita and was launched by seventh-generation owner Alberto Tasca with the 2008 vintage.

—Stephanie Johnson

FAMILY OWNED, ESTATE BOTTLED WINES

Wine & Spirits
MAGAZINE

Year's Best - Sicilian Wines Report

Best 90 points Buy

2017 Tascante Buonora

Buonora is an exuberant Etna Bianco, bursting with flavors of lemon and lime driven by mouthwatering acidity. It comes across initially as an easy-drinking white, but a subtle smoky salinity emerges with exposure to air. It's a fresh, mineral-laden alternative for fans of Chablis and Sancerre. Tascante is the Etna project of Tasca d'Almerita and was launched by seventh-generation owner Alberto Tasca with the 2008 vintage.

—Stephanie Johnson

FAMILY OWNED, ESTATE BOTTLED WINES

Wine & Spirits
MAGAZINE

Year's Best - Sicilian Wines Report

Best 90 points Buy

2017 Tascante Buonora

Buonora is an exuberant Etna Bianco, bursting with flavors of lemon and lime driven by mouthwatering acidity. It comes across initially as an easy-drinking white, but a subtle smoky salinity emerges with exposure to air. It's a fresh, mineral-laden alternative for fans of Chablis and Sancerre. Tascante is the Etna project of Tasca d'Almerita and was launched by seventh-generation owner Alberto Tasca with the 2008 vintage.

—Stephanie Johnson

FAMILY OWNED, ESTATE BOTTLED WINES

Wine & Spirits
MAGAZINE

Year's Best - Sicilian Wines Report

Best 90 points Buy

2017 Tascante Buonora

Buonora is an exuberant Etna Bianco, bursting with flavors of lemon and lime driven by mouthwatering acidity. It comes across initially as an easy-drinking white, but a subtle smoky salinity emerges with exposure to air. It's a fresh, mineral-laden alternative for fans of Chablis and Sancerre. Tascante is the Etna project of Tasca d'Almerita and was launched by seventh-generation owner Alberto Tasca with the 2008 vintage.

—Stephanie Johnson

FAMILY OWNED, ESTATE BOTTLED WINES

Wine & Spirits
MAGAZINE

Year's Best - Sicilian Wines Report

Best 90 points Buy

2017 Tascante Buonora

Buonora is an exuberant Etna Bianco, bursting with flavors of lemon and lime driven by mouthwatering acidity. It comes across initially as an easy-drinking white, but a subtle smoky salinity emerges with exposure to air. It's a fresh, mineral-laden alternative for fans of Chablis and Sancerre. Tascante is the Etna project of Tasca d'Almerita and was launched by seventh-generation owner Alberto Tasca with the 2008 vintage.

—Stephanie Johnson

FAMILY OWNED, ESTATE BOTTLED WINES