A complex, savoury Soave Classico produced from 40-year-old vines growing on the basalt-volcanic soils on the southeast slopes of Monte Foscario. Fermented and aged in oak with regular lees-stirring, the wine then spends a further six months maturing in steel tanks. Crisp, cool, rich and peachy on the palate, with a touch of honey balanced by subtle mineral notes, this is a great partner to fried seafood or moules marinière.
