vinous

There's something distinctly tropical about the 2017 Sauvignon Riserva, as masses of spiced yellow and green citrus give way to young mango and sour melon. This is deeply textural but not weighty in feel, as a mix of saline-tinged acids and a grapefruit rind concentration build tension. The 2017 leaves the palate fresh, yet tapers off a bit short, with pretty inner florals that linger. The warmth of the vintage does show here, yet balance is maintained.
