Alois Lageder "Gaun" Chardonnay Vigneti delle Dolomiti IGT - 2020

vinous

The 2020 Chardonnay Gaun needs some time to unwind in the glass. A burst of savory herbs, crushed stone and underbrush first greets the senses. With swirling, a prettier mix of ripe apple, nectarine and hints of mace can be found. It's silky with medium-bodied weight and a liquid rock-like minerality that balances it all out, while cascading white pit fruits and savory spices across the palate. This finishes a bit short yet crisp and with a salty flair. Don't be in a rush, the 2020 needs a little time to freshen up. After spontaneous fermentation, the Gaun matures for nine months on the lees in a combination of neutral barrels and stainless steel tanks.
