It's always a pleasure to taste the wines from this winery run by two young brothers, leaders in the unofficial rebranding of the Soave region with their carefully tended and crafted wines. This one uses 100% Garganega grapes from vines planted in volcanic soils, which implies a smoky, flinty nose. Medium bodied, savory with tinges of lemon curd and backed with an acid streak, this is pleasant on its own but also a versatile food partner. Excellent with hard-to-pair greens: mine were escarole in a chicken and orzo soup.
