Lovers of mature wine will be thrilled by the 1997 Cabernet Bradisismo, as it opens savory, more like food than wine, with brown spice, tobacco, crushed fall leaves and dried black cherries forming its bouquet. It's elegant and fully resolved with a pretty inner sweetness that offsets the tart red currants and earthy mineral tones. It finishes remarkably fresh, leaving nuances of soy and black olive to linger as the slightest hint of fine tannins resonates. The 1997 is in a beautiful place; it's the inaugural vintage of Bradisismo. History in a bottle. (tasted Dec 2022)
