To my mind, the more tannic 2006, from a year widely acclaimed as a great vintage, still needs a few years to show its splendor. Initially burly, the tannins soften with air, and the black peppery notes of Syrah become a gorgeous accent to the wine's mineral aspect. The energy of the 2006 is thrilling. Everything here is in balance, which is not surprising since Benedetta emphasizes, Balance is key from the start. It's hard to believe that this incredibly youthful wine is 15+ years old. For those who are interested, the blend of the 2006 is Cabernet Sauvignon (60%) and equal parts Merlot and Syrah.
