The 2018 Barbaresco Riserva Camp Gros Martinenga displays a slightly deeper ruby hue and opens to notes of ripe cherries and a more pronounced spice profile of licorice, rosemary, and peppercorn. It has good tension and concentration, with a very nice harmonious structure, good energy, notes of tea leaf, ripe tannins, and a lovely savory finish with a hint of apricot. This is a very nice offering to drink over the next 8- 10 years.
