Perfumed from start to finish, the 2020 Nobile di Montepulciano Le Caggiole wafts up with a pretty blend of dried roses and wild strawberries complemented by hints of orange zest. Soft and round, this impresses with its lifting acidity and mineral tones as subtle nuances of cherry and blackberry swirl throughout. It tapers off with medium length, gently tannic and with a tinge of wild berries that lingers on. This is a graceful and finessed wine that communicates the sandy soils it's sourced from. In 2021 the Le Caggiole will bear the Pieve designation.
