The 2014 Carmignano Villa di Capezzana, a ten-year release from the winery's cellar, opens with a mineral-drenched bouquet that blends sour cherries with savory herbs and crushed stones. It's soft and round with ripe wild berry fruits and brisk acidity as hints of blood orange amass beneath an air of rosy inner florals. Gently tannic and classically dry, the 2014 finishes with length and a sour tinge that puckers the cheeks. While still structured and able to mature, this is already quite accessible. Due to the conditions of the year, Capezzana blended all of the best fruit from its single vineyards into the Carmignano.
