Here's a new fun summer red that could be served a few degrees chilled. Made in stainless steel only, the Badia a Coltibuono 2024 Ciliegiole Chill Ya Jolo Labadia reveals a magic-potion-like color with cranberry juice redness and purple background hues. The bouquet is charming and simple with wild cherry and blueberry. Its structure is lean, but the wine ends with food-friendly freshness. I have a soft spot for wines like this, especially ones that feature Ciliegiole, one of my favorite newly rediscovered Tuscan grapes. This quick-drinking wine has a 20,000-bottle release.
