The 2019 Cabernet Sauvignon Cor Römigberg is dark and brooding in the glass, mixing grilled and mentholated herbs with earth tones, gravel dust and dried black cherries. It is refined and lifted in feel, with peppery red berry fruits and rosy inner florals that swirl across a core of crunchy minerals and mounting fine tannins. This finishes long, intense and structured, with a sour blackberry concentration as autumnal spices linger on and on. Bury this in the cellar. It is a gorgeous interpretation of cool-climate Cabernet Sauvignon.
