Marchesi di Grésy "Camp Gros"
Martinenga Barbaresco DOCG Riserva
- 2012

vinous

Blood orange, pomegranate, rose water and spice give the 2012 its decidedly exotic personality. There is good density, but the wine's mid-weight structure suggests it will drink well with minimal cellaring by this wine's standards, as the tannins are quite sweet. Camp Gros is often a more virile wine. In 2012, it is the wine's fresh, red-toned fruit character that stands out most.
