WINE STORY

I Palchi was born from the collective desire of the 3rd generation of the winery to pursue their ambitious goals in expressing the potential of their family's work and land. I Palchi is a new wine for the estate that redefines the characteristics of Soave Classico. Only the finest micro parcels of old vine Garganega planted in terraces across the slopes of Monte Foscario, an inactive volcano, are selected for this new wine. The resulting wine is one that encapsulates the best of this ancient volcano and territory - refined and elegant with the persistent minerality and complexity that only wines from volcanic soils can exhibit.
